

Appendix A

STATEMENT OF PRINCIPLES OF TRUST COMPANY MANAGEMENT

The minimum requirements to ensure sound trust company practices and to provide safeguards for the protection of fiduciary beneficiaries, creditors, stockholders, and the public, should include:

- Involvement by the Board of Directors in providing for the establishment and continuing operation of a trust company;
- Operation of the trust company separate and apart from every other company of the parent or affiliate, with trust assets separated from other assets owned by the parent or affiliate, and the assets of each trust account separated from the assets of every other trust account; and
- Maintenance of separate books and records for the trust company in sufficient detail to properly reflect all trust company activities.

Nothing herein is intended to prohibit the Board of Directors from acting as the trust committee, or from appointing additional committees and officers to administer the operations of the trust company. When delegating duties to subcommittees and/or officers, the Board of Directors and the trust committee continue to be responsible for the oversight of all trust activities. Sufficient reporting and monitoring procedures should be established to fulfill this responsibility.

The Board of Directors, by proper resolution included in its minutes, should:

1. Designate an officer, qualified and competent, to be responsible for and administer the activities of the trust company. In addition, the board should define the officer's duties.
2. Name a trust committee to be responsible for and supervise the activities of the trust company. The committee should include, where possible, one or more directors who are not active officers of the company.

The trust committee should:

- a) Meet at least quarterly, and more frequently if considered necessary and prudent to fulfill its fiduciary responsibilities.
  - b) Approve and document the opening of all trust accounts; all purchases, sales, and changes in trust assets; and the closing of trust accounts.
  - c) Provide for a comprehensive review of all new accounts for which the company has investment responsibility promptly following acceptance.
  - d) Provide for a review of each trust account, including collective investment funds, at least once during each calendar year. The scope, frequency, and level of review (trust committee, subcommittee, or disinterested account officer) should be addressed in appropriate written policies which give consideration to the company's fiduciary responsibilities, type and size of account, and other relevant factors. Generally, discretionary account reviews should cover both administration of the account and suitability of the account's investments, and nondiscretionary account reviews should address account administration.
  - e) Keep comprehensive minutes of meetings held and actions taken.
  - f) Make periodic reports to the Board of Directors of its actions.
3. Provide comprehensive written policies which address all important areas of trust activities.

4. Provide competent legal counsel to advise trust officers and the trust committee on legal matters pertaining to fiduciary activities.
5. Provide for adequate internal controls including appropriate controls over trust assets.
6. Provide for an adequate audit (by internal or external auditors or a combination thereof) of all fiduciary activities, annually. The findings of the audit, including actions taken as a result of the audit, should be recorded in its minutes. If a trust company adopts a continuous audit process instead of performing annual audits, audits may be performed, on an activity-by-activity basis, at intervals commensurate with the level of risk associated with that activity. Audit intervals must be supported and reassessed regularly to ensure appropriateness given the current risk and volume of the activity.
7. Receive reports from the trust committee and record actions taken in its minutes.
8. Review the examination reports of the trust company by supervisory agencies and record actions taken in its minutes.
