Meet the new Director of Credit Unions

The Department of Financial Institutions has hired Amy Hunter as the new Director of Credit Unions. With a regulatory career spanning 25 years, Amy brings extensive regulatory agency experience to the role as Director. Amy has spent the past 20 years with the Washington State Gambling Commission and looks forward to applying her expertise to a new field.

Amy began her career with the Gambling Commission as a staff attorney in 1994. From 1997 to 2015, she served as Communications and Legal Division Administrator and Legislative Liaison, where she gained management and media relations experience and strong legislative skills. After taking the role of Deputy Director in 2015, Amy oversaw the agency's management and leadership, including strategic planning, budget preparation, and annual budget of $10.2 million.

Please join the Division in welcoming Amy at one of two locations in November. A Western Region event will be held at the Northwest Credit Union Association (NWCUA) in SeaTac on November 27th and an Eastern Region event will be held at Spokane Teachers Credit Union (STCU) on November 29th.
